Market Closing—Prices advanced toward the close for a few of the leading stocks, with a little more activity being shown. Reading and Steel sold to their highest point for the day, and steel prices in all issues were above the low point, showing fractional changes. New York Central closed at 101.4, a net gain of 1.4 points; steel closed at 103.4, a net loss of 1.2, and Union Pacific, Reading and Lehigh Valley were slightly below Saturday's final. Total sales, 119,459 shares.

The opening of the stock market followed the London prices, which were lower all around, the losses in leading issues running close to a point. Dealings were professional and the less favorable news regarding the Mexican situation was the chief cause of the selling movement. The initial decline in Union Pacific amounted to 1/2 to 1.00, and in Reading it was of the same extent. Lehigh Valley opened down a point and Canadian Pacific was 1/4 lower. Steel 1/2 off and New Haven 1/4 down at 75 1/2.

While a few issues sold fractionally lower after the first sales, most all stocks made gains on the following sales, and at 10 o'clock had gained part of the initial losses. Lehigh Valley jumped from 101.2 to 102.4, showing rather a thin market. New Haven was active during the first hour, selling up to 78.1-4, a gain of 2.1-2 points over opening prices. This gave strength to the rally for a time, and prices advanced within a fraction of the final prices of Saturday.

Central Leather has been very active lately on advancing quotations, and seemed to be under accumulation on improved earnings and trade situation.

American Telephone stock was weak, affected by movement in Congress in favor of Government ownership. Prices sagged off during latter part of second hour, and in early afternoon trading was very light at the lower level close to the opening prices.

No change in character of market occurred up to the last hour; business came to a standstill, with prices at the low point of the day.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

Saturday's Close. Open. High. Low. Close.

13.50 July 13.22 13.28 13.05 13.07

Cotton prices were from 1 to 3 points lower at the opening. Receipts of cotton at ports to-day are estimated at 10,000 bales against 8,222 last week and 10,138 bales last year. Market was steady on Southern buying on private estimates of crop. Liverpool also bought and local shorts covered despite lower cable. Considerable attention is being attached to the increase in receipts at New England points, which is indicative of larger Northern mill takings.

Prices rallied after the opening from 5 to 9 points, but showed a reactionary tendency in second hour, due largely to selling by prominent Exchange Place interests and local trade.

FINANCIAL NEWS ITEMS.

Crop-movings money advanced by the Government with banks in South and West shows decline of $1,000,000 from high water mark, amounting at present time to $4,100,000.

Standard Oil Company of New Jersey declared regular quarterly dividend of $2 a share, payable Dec. 15, to stock of record Nov. 21.

Central Leather common has advanced 9 points from the low point of June 10 and 4 points since last week, but in late afternoon the company refused to commit themselves as to probable action of directors regarding a common dividend at meeting to be held in about ten days.

It is pointed out that the company has cash surplus of over $5,000,000 and that it is loaning from $5,000,000 to $5,000,000 in Wall street at the present time.

Earnings last year were 8.87 per cent. on the common stock and there is a strong probability that the 1913 fiscal period will prove nearly as good as last year.

Adams Express Company declared

CONSOLIDATED STOCK EXCHANGE.

Ohio Oil Company declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share and an extra dividend of $0.75, payable Dec. 1 to stock of record Nov. 19.

Chicago Wheat and Corn Markets.

Commodity	Open	High	Low	Close	Net
Wheat	101 1/2	102 1/2	101 1/2	101 1/2	+ 1/2
Corn	101 1/2	102 1/2	101 1/2	101 1/2	+ 1/2

Wheat opened up 1/2 to 1/4 higher.

Northwest receipts to-day at Duluth 177 car lots, compared with 1,007 last week and 85 last year same date, and at Minneapolis 66 cars of wheat to-day, 65 last week and 81 last year same date.

Wheat was strong on higher cables and flood reports from Argentina. Better demand for Canadian wheat caused considerable short covering.

Corn opened firm 1/2 to 3/4 higher on unsettled weather. Shorts bought freely, foreign prices better and strength in wheat was a factor. December advanced to a premium. In second hour wheat was strong. Stop-loss orders on short side were reached.

Prices of wheat and corn weakened in late morning, losing part of the advance on local profit taking. The lowest prices for the day were near the close for both wheat and corn. The final prices showed wheat unchanged, while corn was 1/4 to 3/4 above Saturday's close.

WHAT HE SAID.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)

"I never was so embarrassed in my life. I came face to face with my husband."

"What did he say?"

"Nothing much. He just looked up at me and smiled, and then said: 'Who are you nagging now, Mary?'"

ANNUAL BALL OF "BIG 6."

Union of 7,000 Printers to Have 64th Reception Thanksgiving Eve.

New York Typographical Union No. 6, the largest organization of printers in the world, will hold its sixty-fourth annual reception and ball in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, Thirty-fourth street and Park avenue, on Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday, Nov. 21. Twenty-eight journeyman printers assembled in Stonewall Hotel in Fulton street on Saturday evening, Jan. 12, 1850, and there formed the organization, which to-day has 7,000 members.

Horace Greeley, founder of the New York Tribune, was the first President of the printers' union.

"Big Six" is large numerically and generous in assisting its members in time of need. It contributes $12,000 annually to the support of the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs, and nearly $100,000 a year for other beneficial features, including old age pensions and its mortuary insurance fund.

"Big Six" also contributes to the support of the School for Printers' Apprentices at the Hudson Guild, 125 West Twenty-seventh street, where nearly 200 apprentices are receiving instruction.

The proceeds of the annual reception and ball are devoted to the maintenance of beds in several city hospitals.
